There was a note there, and the note said, "Greetings. You are in the Grand Canyon." They said, "In the Grand Canyon? Here with all these <sup>big</sup> mountains around, in a canyon? It just seems impossible," and indeed to anyone who had not been in that canyon and seen the tremendous size of it, it is just impossible to imagine it a canyon. It is so vast that they say that if the White Mountains, if the Presidential Range in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, one of the largest ranges in the Eastern United States, were picked up from there and carried out <sup>down</sup> and deposited/there in the Grand Canyon, the next morning people looking down over them wouldn't even know any change had taken place, so great are the mountains and cliffs and valleys and gorges down inside of that tremendous canyon. But that's what the note said, "You are in the Grand Canyon," and it was signed by Captain _____, their own captain, and if he were up there he could see what they couldn't possibly see down here and he was a man of his word, and he said they were in the Grand Canyon, and so they believed it must be true, and the note went on, and it said, "Stay where you are and an effort will be made to get a rescue party to you. Well, they were quite thrilled about that. A revelation from above. A communication telling them what they couldn't see down there but one could see who was up above them and could see what was happening and one whose word they could trust. Well, now that is a _____ illustration, I think, of divine revelation, of the revelation from the Word of God. Divine revelation doesn't differ in quality from human revelation, only in greatness, in quantity, in the fact that God's knowledge is so greater than ours and so I think that it is worth noting also an illustration of human communication from one to another in the same connection. Captain _____ was there in the plane and he looked down and he could only see what a man could see from above there. He didn't have the knowledge that God would have and he looked down and he saw gorges and valleys and the tremendous river below him, but he saw no sign of man, and he looked through his glasses and he could see the parachute, but no man and he wondered, "Was it possible that a man had survived all these dangers,
