I am greatly interested in the progress of the NIV. Looking over Isaiah I found a number of readings that pleased me greatly. There were, however, a number of other cases where I felt that the Hebrew was not properly represented, and wished that I could have had opportunity to look it over before publication. I have spent many years of study on this particular book.

It was kind of you to invite me to Salamanca, and I would indeed like to give any possible help toward making the version as fine as possible. Unfortunately I find that my summer schedule already includes engagements that I could not break, including one on July 4 for which I have sent publicity material and a photograph.

It would indeed have been a pleasure to be associated with you and the others of the Committee. I hope that you will be able to get exactly the right participants, and regret my inability to join in this aspect of the work.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
