

I worked with Dr. Wilson some each day. It was a pleasant place. He had a little on the edge of Saltsburg, Pennsylvania, not far from Indiana, Pennsylvania, where Dr. Wilson had been brought up. The place had been rented and there was a little difficulty in repossessing it, but I only heard echoes of this; I did not hear the details. Dr. Wilson liked to play rook, but seemed to enjoy it much better if he won ~~x~~ than if he did not. Occasionally I walked with the two girls, Sarah and Anne. They This was There was very little of this, but a little, and I would ~~walk~~ walk in the middle with one of them on each side, and would, if I recall correctly, I held them by the elbow. This was the only contact I had with the ~~girls~~ girls, except that of course they might, one or more of them might participate in the rook ~~games~~ games that Dr. Wilson seemed to enjoy a great deal.

After a couple of weeks--two or three weeks there--one day Dr. Wilson mentioned that he was to go ~~away~~ away for two or three days to ~~preach~~ preach somewhere. While we were there he preached in the big church in Indiana, and I was greatly pleased with his fine defense of the Old Testament against its attackers.

About three or four days before he was to leave for this brief time away Dr. Wilson ~~suggestion~~ suggested in a whimsical voice that way that I should ask the leader of the presbytery whether I could become ~~supply~~ supply at the summer at the big church at Indiana, ~~Pa.~~ Pa. He said, "You might ask about that and then ask ~~me~~ about---he named two or three somewhat smaller churches," and then he said, "Ask about two or three others," and he said, "Eventually he will probably give you make you supply of one of the little country ~~churches~~ churches." I had not thought of such a thing ~~at~~ at all. My intention in going there was to work on Old Testament with him and I had there had been no definite un-erstanding as to how long I would stay with him. I had been my intention all along, some time during the summer, to go out to california and see my parents. These remarks of Dr. Wilson made it evident that I was no longer entirely welcome in the house. I made I forget what I may have said, but he said, "Well I could hardly ~~leave~~ leave you here while I am away just with these women in the house."--his wife and daughters. It seemed to me that he
