

Allan A. MacRae

(A.B., A.M., Occidental College; Th.B., Princeton Theological Seminary; A.M. (Semitic Philology), Princeton University; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania) is Chancellor and Professor of Old Testament at Biblical Theological Seminary.

In addition to his degrees, Dr MacRae's educational background involved the study of ancient languages related to the Bible (Babylonian Cuneiform, Egyptian Hieroglyphics, Arabic and Syriac) at the University of Berlin; training under W. F. Albright at the American Schools of Oriental Research in Jerusalem, jointly discovering with Prof. Albright and two others the site of the biblical city of Ham (Gen 14); and research at the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago

Besides an extensive preaching, lecturing and writing career, Dr MacRae has taught at Westminster Theological Seminary (1929-37), Faith Theological Seminary (1937-71), and Biblical Theological Seminary (1971-).