

"Two duties which should be performed by God's people are too much neglected today. One is to study diligently to find the true answer to each attack of unbelief.

The other is to use every possible means to spread knowledge of such answers. It would be well for each Christian to ask himself what he ought to do to further these vital tasks."

Dr. A.A. MacRae

The Bible Today, p. 499