

should be spinned at various points, so that the ~~g~~ balloon expanded at these points would also move apart from each other and ~~would~~ with the ones furthest away <sup>apart</sup> moving/more rapidly. Further the two points were away from each other, the more rapidly the distance between them would increase.

~~disorder~~ d3

not

The concept of the expanding universe is ~~not~~ naturally/contained in the book of Genesis. However, it was a real thrill to me last year while studying the book of Isaiah and examining the great portions where it stresses the power and the greatness of God to see how often it refers to his creation of the heaven and earth with such statements as: "He stretched out here used for the heavens with his might," Here the word "stretched out" is a word which implies a tremendous power of stretching things, which implies a strong ~~impress~~ exertion of a tremendous power. We are told that ~~the~~ some of the ~~distance~~ distant galaxies are moving away from us at the rate of as much as many hundreds of miles per second. The thought of the tremendous power that causes this great motion that staggers the imagination, ~~of~~ is aptly portrayed by the wonderful figures in the latter part of the book of Isaiah.