

It would not be reasonable to expect that God would necessarily reveal to Moses the nature of the galaxies, and something of their number and extent.

And

It was not necessary for His purpose. / It was far beyond the observation of these facts... is far beyond any mechanical means that were available to man / at that time. Now, we are aware of them. Do we find that Genesis and the Bible as a whole contradicted?