

~~Where did this great universe come from?~~ In Genesis 2, the attention is definitely centered upon this earth. We have just mentioned the verses which deal with the universe as a whole. From most of the Bible mainly with this present earth, from Genesis 1:2 ~~to~~ to the rest of the chapter, it is dealing with God's handling of this earth, and shows the development thereof. Only a very brief summary of it ^{what} is given, yet it contains a number of features which are very ~~different~~ different from ^{any} man would have been apt to have thought out of his head, and it is amazing ~~how~~ at how many points present theories of science fit with the statements of Genesis. There is nothing that is definitely provable by science which contradicts any statement of Genesis. Many of the present scientific theories may be completely abandoned within the next few years. We should not say that scientific theories are ~~proven~~ ^{because} proven by their ~~similarities~~ similarities to Genesis, ~~as~~ other theories may yet be advanced which may fit the statements in Genesis even more closely. However, it is a marvellous evidence ^{the} of ^{as} fact that the Bible is dependable, that ^{as} science advances it so often makes discoveries which fit in with previously with statements of ~~Scripture~~ in Genesis, which previously would have been considered very strange, and gives further evidence that God was indeed speaking through Moses, and in what he said about the universe and about ~~the~~ planet. Jesus said, If I told you earthly things, and yet you do not believe, how could you believe when I tell ^{of} you ~~of~~ heavenly things? The Bible tells us of physical things and as knowledge advances we find case after case where the statements of the Bible seem to have suggested already the things science is newly discovering. The main purpose of the Bible is not to give us physical things, but to give us the great spiritual teachings upon which the issues of the eternal life ~~are~~ depend, If we can believe the ~~Bible~~ Bible as we can so definitely ^{on} physical things, how much more should we put more faith upon it in spiritual matters.?
