

With equal assurance He stated His claims regarding Himself. "Which of you convinceth me of sin?" "I am the light of the world." "Before Abraham was, I am."

These claims of Christ, that He was God, the Creator of the universe, would indicate colossal effrontery or utter lunacy, if spoken by an ordinary person. Yet examination of His spotless life, His peerless teachings, and His unparalleled influence can lead to only one conclusion: His claims are true.

Read the story of the Lord. See His supremacy. See the greatness of His character. Note His uniqueness among men.

See the depth of His sympathy and human understanding. Fall at His feet, like the disciples of old, and say, "My lord and my God." He is anxious to save you from all the miseries of a life apart from God. He came to this world to die for your sins, if you will believe on Him and receive newness of life as the free gift of His grace. How wonderful is "the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

By the Rev. Allan A. Mac Rae, Ph. D.