is God's will that every one should be a missionary and that every one should be a Christian worker and that they should fulfill that function wherever they are or in whatever place it is to which He may call them. The sowing of the seed is a duty which God has given to every individual and you cannot tell what the results may be. There is a woman in this town who runs a store here who always makes a practice of witnessing to practically everyone who comes into the store. She gives them a word about Christ. She tells them something of the possibility of salvation

but I think probably most of them think she is a little bit cracked, and I heard her tell one time how somebody said to her, they said, "Well, Mrs. So-and-so, why do you say these things to everybody that comes in? Do you think that helps your business any? Don't you think that those people think that you are just a little bit queer for that? Do you ever see any accomplishment? Do any of them accept the message you give?" And she said, "Well, when I was a young girl I had an aunt who was always witnessing for Christ", and she said, "I asked her once, 'Why do you make yourself seem peculiar with saying these things to everybody as you do?'" and she said the aunt said to her 'Well, you know,' she said, 'Some of these people are going to have trouble and difficulty and you don't know how soon it is going to come and you don't know how just a word that I have said to them may remain in their mind and the time may come when they are in some difficulty and they need something and the Lord may just use that little word that I have implanted in their mind as a means of bringing them to Christ,' and if she speaks to a thousand people and they all think she is a little bit queer, if that word is the means that the Lord uses in one of those cases to bring a person from darkness to light, to make a person's life not something to be thrown out into eternal destruction but something worth while
