

dealers, is all part of the course of this age, something which we cannot expect God to help us to destroy in this age. He will destroy it, but something which He will give us the grace to face. He will give us the strength to go through it, and to keep our eyes fixed upon Him, and to witness to Him no matter what might happen.