.....and the person comes in and says, I turned in that assignment. And you say, Well, I guess I made a mistake. That's all there is to it. And there is something to that in our relationship with God. If we are in constant fellowship with God confessing our sin in the day in which it occurs, and looking to Him day by day to cleanse us and to teach us to grow in grace, and to bring us to the knowledge of what we need that day, if we are in that relationship with God, our prayers can have an effectiveness in one ~~thing~~<sup>sentence</sup>, the two hours of praying would not have from one who let his spiritual life ..... $1\frac{1}{2}$ .....and leaves all of his praying to be done in the time of ... $1\frac{1}{2}$ ... a lack of constant fellowship can be one of the greatest hindrances to prayer in ..... $1\frac{1}{2}$ .....

And on this day of prayer may we search our hearts, and see what are the cloggings up that are keeping our prayers from being answered, and cleanse ourselves from the lack of love, cleanse ourselves from the attitudes that are contrary to God's will, cleanse ourselves from the hidden sins that is there that no one else knows about. In this day of prayer, may we think through our relationships, may we apply the gnosis that God wants us to apply, may we think through and see the points at which we ~~xxx~~ are making mistakes, the lack of true understanding which has hindered our prayers. May we in this day of prayer establish a constancy of fellowship with the Lord that we will continue day by day, that the blessings may come not just on this one day, but ~~xxx~~ may come continuously on through the year. Oh may this day of prayer be one ~~xxx~~ for us of cleansing out that which hinders our prayer, may it be one in which we will make progress in our fellowship with God, and in our true understanding. May it be a day in which we will so advance, each one, that as a result of this day of prayer, and the days that shall follow, we will each of us grow in grace, and the many aspects of the kingdom of Christ in which we are interested will go forward and advance, because God will hear our prayers. It really will do what is necessary to enter into that kingdom fellowship..... let us pray.....
