

to defend the gospel, to fight against Satan as we have because the thing Satan wants us to stop us from spreading the gospel. And if he can divert our attention from he is supremely happy. (6 3/4) on preaching the Word, on winning souls to salvation

But the Lord wants us to do more than that, he wants us to put on the whole armour of God. He wants us to resist the wiles of the devil, he wants us to take our stand clearly and plainly, and strongly, against the evil in our day. I talked to a professor at the University of Chicago who was a professor of history. His field was ancient history, he wrote a number of books on ancient history. He wrote a book which is a tremendous help to us in a way in our study of the N.T. because he showed the historicity of many statements in John which the critics attack so often. Prof. <sup>Olmsted</sup> Hollingshead said when you find Matthew and John disagree, stick to John, he said, you can depend on John. But I disagree, I think they're both dependable. The critics say if they differ, John is later t (8)

(8½) And so I was interested in talking to him and getting some of his reactions on this point, he was getting along in years and rather liked to chat (8½) and one thing he said to me, he said, you know I belong to a society in Chicago for the study of the Bible, he said, a society of professors in theological seminaries. And he said, we meet together and discuss our views of the Bible, and he said practically every man in that society has no more belief in the Bible than I do. He said they think