Well now the ninth experience that they went through was the lack of food.

This is described in the next chapter in Ex. rather fully, and someone may immediately wonder, Why does it wait this long before they begin having the difficulties of lack dimn't of food/ Why #14/t it come earlier in the trip? I believe that even though it is not that the fact is here stated/- well, I'll put under here

a. The Situation. And then as to the situation, I believe that the food from Egy. had been used up. That when they had left Egy. they had taken many good things with them. And these good things they had tried to make last, and they had not realized the length of the journey, and as long as they had these good things from Egy. along and they were eating from them, they would fill up with what they don't could find along the way for the other necessities for subsistence but they felt content - they expented to get to the Promised Land very soon. But they had ho yrs. before they reached the Promised Land. It was not a brief trip. And our Christian pilgrimage is a long journey, and we need God's grace every step of the way. We need to have deep roots, not to be like the seed that wasput on stony soil and it quickly grew up and looked beautiful, but the roots were not deep and when
