

men, When you talk to Hopkins consider it just the same as if you were talking with me. And people couldn't understand that and even some of Roosevelt's closest friends had absolutely no use for Hopkins. And one day after Roosevelt was elected to his 3rd term. Wendell Wilkie who had been defeated for that presidency by Roosevelt thought that he might help in the world situation by making a trip to England and seeing the situation that Eng. was going through in the blitz that they were then suffering. And he went to see Roosevelt in the White House. And Roosevelt said to him, That will be very helpful if you will go to England. and I wish you would see Winston Churchill and talk with him. And he gave him a message to take to Churchill from him. And Wilkie then said, Mr. President. I certainly will be glad to see Churchill. And Roosevelt said. While you are there I hope you will have some time with Harry Hopkins who is over there. And Wilkie ^{didn't} ~~said~~ --- you could see by his face he didn't even care to speak to Harry Hopkins. And he said to Roosevelt, Mr. President, People don't understand why you put confidence in Harry Hopkins. I think you would be in a much better position, and most of your friends as well as your opponents feel you'd be in a better position if you didn't keep up this close ~~w~~ relation with Harry Hopkins. And Wilkie ~~said~~ that Roosevelt said to ~~him~~ him, Mr. Wilkie. Someday you might become president of the United States. If you do you will learn that it is a very ~~lon~~lonesome position . And he said, If you sit here and see people come in through that door you will know that just about every one of them has something he wants. There is something he wants to get out of you. Someway to advance himself. And he said, If you can find a ~~wild~~ man who has only one object in life and that is to help you, and to put your interests first in everything like I've found in Harry Hopkins , he said you will be very ~~v~~ery fortunate. And that is a difficult thing to find. But if you can find a man of ability who has that ~~k~~ kind of an attitude, you are wise to do as Roosevelt did and to grab on to him even though some of Roosevelt's closest friends just couldn't see what Roosevelt could see in Harry Hopkins. Well Moses had selected these people carefully. Perhaps he hadn't put as much responsibility on them as he should have. Perhaps the job was just so great. that even though he was using them to the utmost. it was just more than anyone could do. Anyway the Lord in his twofold answer to Moses' prayer, his
