

word. It should simply be the dwelling place, of these men. But the people were told to go away from there and then the Lord caused that the earth open its mouth and swallow them up and their houses and all the group that was cooperating there in this attack. So here we have the miracles that God worked in order to carry out this tremendous thing of the Israelites going from Egypt into the promised land. The wonderful miracles that He worked. And in the Christian life as we carry out our pilgrimage for God, God will work what is just as wonderful as this. The Holy Spirit coming into our hearts. The Holy Spirit leading us. The Lord blessing our efforts if we truly keep our eyes on Him. And the assurance we can have that if our eyes are on Him even if things seem to go wrong and it is not our fault, the Lord has a purpose in it because He is marvellously working in the pilgrimage journey of each one who has truly believed on Him and is heading thus toward the promised land. We can know that these things are true in our lives if we are truly following Him.

F. Later History of the Descendants of Korah. It is after reading of this terrible way in which the ~~XX~~ Korah and these associates of his made this great uprising against Moses and Aaron, it is truly fine to note that the descendants of Korah were not blotted out as were the descendants of ~~D~~ Dathan and Abiram. But the descendants of Korah took an important part in the religious life of the Israelites. And in 1 Chron. 6:22-38 we have an account of the descendants of Korah and of the great work that they did in the service of the tabernacle. It is interesting there as we look at the list of the descendants of Korah, it traces it down to Samuel in vs. 28. There we have Samuel, and then we have Samuel's grandson, Heman, who is mentioned in vs. 33. Heman the singer the son of Joel the son of Samuel, and then his ancestry is given back. One of the great singers in the tabernacle in the time of David. And many a Psalm is inscribed as for the sons of Korah. Here ~~at~~ were these people who rose up against Moses, against the Aaron leadership, against the priesthood being limited to them, but the descendants became great leaders in the ~~at~~ very direction against which Korah had fought, their ancestor had fought at this time. Their lives were not blighted by the fact that they looked back to an ancestor who had thus rebelled against God's purposes but they came in line with His purpose and ~~the~~ their
