

sinful (???) Sin is more properly an attribute of the spirit than of the body. The body has certain tendencies. The spirit is sinful until it is saved by the Lord Jesus Christ. When we are saved we are saved immediately; our guilt of sin is ~~immediately~~ completely removed; we are in His sight as if we had not sinned. But the sanctification is a slow process, and this process continues all through our lives. The process of cleansing (?) of the spirit being free from sin and of the spirit gaining control over those bodily and emotional and mental qualities that will lead us toward sin.

The called flesh in Scripture. You cannot -- it is very difficult to make an exact division between the flesh and the spirit. We are often deceived on this point. I think it is important we recognize that this distinction exists. That there is a spirit which is important and there is the flesh which is human, which is natural, and the flesh greatly affects the spirit. A great deal that we think of as mental or emotional is just as much a part of the flesh as are our physical characteristics.

▼ The Relation of Mechanistic to Spiritual.

I once had a young people's camp, a camp for college students a few years ago and there was a man there who was representing an organization among Christian medical students, he was travelling all over the country, in that respect. He was there for the conference, and I found he had some very difficult problems which he did not seem to be able to find the answer to, that bothered him greatly. His problem was this: he said, I as a doctor have to do my job right and the person recovers. I make a mistake I give the wrong diagnosis, or give the wrong treatment and the patient dies. Now, he said, how do you put that together with God's having control over everything, and everything being what the Lord works out. To him it was an
