

who is One but who is also Three. In the Trinity are to be found the answers to the problems of theology; in the death of Christ are found the answers to the needs of the human heart.

[to A on 114.]