

To bring into existence a peculiar people, a people of His own, a holy people, one that will have fellowship with Him through all eternity. How will He do this? Well, I have five heads under this particular point which I will have to run over very rapidly.

No. 1, He creates spirits that will last forever. We will live forever. The spirit that God creates is an everlasting spirit. Now there are people who say that human beings by a physical act can bring an everlasting spirit into existence. I do not believe it for a second. To me it is contrary to all the teachings of Scripture. I believe that the spirit is created of God, and God creates the spirit ~~XXXXXX~~ has a human birth and then the spirit has a new birth, but it is all God's creation. He brings His elect to salvation.

But secondly, He gives the spirit He creates a body. He lends us a body for the few years we are here. When I'm through with this body, I don't care anymore what happens to this body than I do what happens to this suit of clothes when it gets worn out. It is merely a temporary dwelling in which I live for a time. It is a marvellous instrument God has made, to enable me to have contact with this world when he is here, but I will be very happy to be rid of it when He is through with it because I know He'll give me a better one later on. He gives us bodies though and there is a great difference in the bodies. Some are very able and some are not so able and it is not your fault. God has given us the sort of body He has because that is the kind of body that will make that particular spirit have the opportunity of becoming what He wants it to be. Therefore, while we must work to make our bodies better; we must work to improve our minds; we must work to do the best we can with what
