

perhaps even presented the Gospel in ways that won others to belief in Christ, who will not be caught up in the air! Because they were hypocrites, they were unsaved. And how many there will be whom we did not think were Christians. We had given them the Word of God and yet they had given no visible sign of receiving it. We didn't believe they had actually come to the Lord. And as we are being caught up we will see them caught up together with us into the air. It will be a time of tremendous surprises for us because you cannot tell who has been saved. I don't like to tell people, You are saved! We don't know about other people. You know yourself whether you have accepted Christ from the heart and looked to Him for salvation, or but whether someone else merely said some words or had a superficial understanding that was not a real sincere and real relationship to Christ you don't know. The person may know and God knows, but you don't know. We have a right to know about ourselves. We have a right to be absolutely sure. If we have any doubt we have a right to say I now look in faith to Christ, I turn away from my sin; whether I've ever done it before or not, I do it now. We have a right to say that and in the sincerity of our heart, and if we do we are justified and cleansed from our sin and are on the way of the long road of sanctification.

But whether someone has said that truly in his heart to Christ or has merely ~~said~~ said certain words, we don't know about somebody else. I never say to someone You are saved. I say If you from your heart truly accepted Christ as Saviour you are saved, but only they and the Lord know. So we are going
