

Surely, when two heathen nations fight we cannot say that whichever one of them loses is then suffering God's judgment upon it. At least we cannot say this, unless we have clear Scriptural evidence of the facts.

The working out of the principles of God's judgment from the Scripture and applying them to our hearts and lives can be a very profitable and helpful study. However, it is a study which may involve a good bit of very careful thinking and if it is to be done in a short time it would seem to require a great deal of care to keep from spending too large an amount of time on side lanes or going up side paths, which, while they might be worthwhile, would not contribute to the soon-reaching of results that would be of real value.
