

Then suppose that later on in California I wanted to tell someone ~~of my~~, about the new developments in Chicago air port. I would not start telling him about that with my leaving my home. I would probably say, as the plane neared, / Chicago, I looked out ^{of} ~~through~~ the window and underneath me saw the great developments that has been made of the O'Hare air-port.

Thus one account ~~deals with~~ dealing with ~~a large~~, the ~~whole~~ story in ^{brief} ~~will~~ ^{world} start with me ~~in Elkins Park~~ on the ground on the Elkins Park, the other dealing with a small part of the whole story would start with me up in a plane approaching Chicago. Genesis 1:1-2:4 ~~and Genesis 2:4b to following~~, one has a large survey of creation of all things including man, ^{Gen. 2:4b f.} the other simply deals with the creation of man himself and therefore ~~handles briefly~~, and therefore starts at a different time, and dealing ^S only with a part of the world rather than with the whole verse.
