

Genealogies in J
Genesis

Taken from Brightman

Cain and his descendants      ~~4.1-24~~ esp. vs. 17-22
Genealogy of Seth            4.25-26; 5.29
A fragmentary genealogy of the sons of Noah    9.18-19; 10.8-19,21,24,25-30

Nahor's children    22.20-24
Sons of Keturah    25.1-4
Birth of Jacob's sons    29.32-35; 30.3b-5,7,9-16,20b-21,24

The Kings of Edom      36.31-39

Taken from Addis

Cain's descendants      4.17-22

Genealogy of Sethites    4.25-26; 5.29

Sons of Noah            9.18-19; 10.8-19; 10.21,25-30

Nahor's children    22.20-24
    "The notice of Nahor's family probably comes from the Jahvist, because it prepares the way for ch. 24, which is admittedly by him . . . The phrase
    'after these things' is a phrase of the Elohist . . ." Vol. I, pp.37,38

Sons of Keturah      25.1-4            (reasons for giving it to J, p.43)

Birth of Jacob's sons    29.32-35; 30.3b-5,7,9-16, 20b-21,24

Skinner, Genesis, p. 333    On Gen. 22.20-24, the Sons of Nahor, says "The vv. bear the unmistakable signature of a Yahwistic genealogy . . . Of P's style and manner there is no trace . . . The introductory ~~phrase~~ formula(("after these things")) is not exclusively Elohist . . .

See Holzinger's note on Gen. 22.20-24