Believer and Unbeliever

The return of Christ will be an unexpected and/^{un}welcome event to the unbelieving world. It is unwelcome because they are unready, spiritually unready. This is the second phase of Christ's return and for this phase signs are given.

The return of Christ is an expected but undated event for true Christians. Because it is undated no signs are given for this, the first phase of Christ's coming and therefore believers are to be always ready.

First phase	Second phase
Signless	Signs
Undated but expected	Dated (with reference to duration of time between first and second phase) but unexpected
Believers to be ready (if unready will be ashamed)	Unbelievers unready
