

OUTLINE FOR BOOK ON PENTATEUCHAL CRITICISM

000950

- 1.0 Preface
- 1.1 Introduction Importance of the Subject
- 2.1 Exactly What the Theory Is
- 3.01 Theory a Relic from Attitudes of a Bygone Era of Thought
- 3.02 Wellhausen's Views Preserved Mainly Unchanged by Present-Day Scholars
- 3.11 Extreme skepticism about ancient facts and writings
- 3.12 Wolf and his followers
- 3.13 Attitude toward Troy and Mycenae
- 3.14 Attacks on Cicero's orations
- 3.15 Allegro and the Gospels
- 3.16 Wellhausen on "unhistorical" nature of Moses, Abraham, etc.
- 3.17 Far-reaching change as a result of archaeology
- 3.18 Schliemann at Troy
- 3.19 Egypt and Mesopotamia
- 3.20 Old Testament History
- 3.21 Historicism - writings as merely expressing the spirit of the age. Twentieth century
- 3.26 Ballads
 - Idea of Prof. F.B. Gummere
 - Refutation by Dr. L. Pound and others
 - Wellhausen's attitude
- 3.29 Evolutionary historicism discredited. Recent reaction against historicism.
- 3.31 Source hunting
 - Initiated by Wolf and others
 - Extremes to which carried
 - Prof. Guerard of Stanford University
 - Statement of A. E. Housman
 - Strong recent reaction
- 3.41 Situation in the study of Homer
 - Variety of views -- no such dogmatism as in G-W theory
- 3.42 Historical truth and error preserved in Homer
- 3.45 Homer destroyed in thought a few years ago, now largely reestablished
- 3.50 Effect of work of Milton Parry