

Andrew Lange's (1844-1912) Homer and the Epic refutes the niggling criticism which had led scholars to dissect the Illiad and Odyssey into collections of ill-assorted "lays" put together by what Wilamowitz called a "botcher". (G. Highet, The Classical Tradition, p.484)

The Warburg Institute. A Bibliography of the Survival of the Classics 1931-3 (2 vol., London, 1934)

W. P. Ker, Epic and Romance (London, 1922), 48f.

W. W. Lawrence, Beowulf and Epic Tradition(Cambridge, Mass. 1930)

Rhys Carpenter, Fold tale, Fiction, and Saga in the Homeric Epics (Sather Classical Lectures, Berkeley), 1946

A. L. Attwater, 'Shakespeare's Sources', in A Companion to Shakespeare Studies, ed. H. Granville-Barker and G. B. Harrison (New York, 1934)

Cicero

Heinrich Karl Abraham Eichstadt

S. N. J Bloch(1772-1862) - editor of Select Speeches of Cicero

Heinrich Ludolf Ahrens

✓ Greek
824
Q4
Sir Arthur Thomas Quiller-Couch(1863-1944), Adventures in Criticism, 1896

824
Q41
—————, Studies in Literature 1918-30