

show how ~~was~~ different it is from what it is from what man would have expected.

And so, we come on to . . . we continue in the passage. He says every battle of the warriors would confuse the noise , garments, and _____ ✓ with blood.

What a terrible picture of the noise and confusion of the blood and the ~~terrible~~ terror of the Assyrian army marching into the land. But he says, this would be for burning with fuel and fire, and they are ~~going to~~ coming to an end all the instruments of the war. There is going to be peace on earth. How is this going to come? ^{By} ~~The~~ United States Nations. That is going to have human expedience to establish peace.

It is going to come because some great human conqueror is going to establish his power throughout the world. He gives an entirely different message. Verse 16 continues, "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder." Notice how the interesting ~~par~~ parallel is here.

A child is born, a son is given. ✓ I do not know whether Isaiah fully understood this or not. Peter tells us that prophets wondered ✓ just what was the full meaning of the visions ✓ that God gave them of the future. But they tried to understand what or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ in them did ✓ ~~signify~~ signify when he testified beforehand ✓ the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

But here we find that a child is born, ^{the} a most wonderful child, the most perfect ✓ that ever lived. A son was given. The son of God came to the earth. God's Son, Fully God and fully man. It is only thus that ~~could~~ Jesus Christ could bear our sins on the cross. He represents us as man. He is one ~~of~~ of us. If he was not / a child born, if he was not a human being, how could he represent us and bear our sin? If he were an ordinary man, when he died, he would have to die for his own sins. How could he then save any body else? No man could bear another man's sin. But Jesus Christ is God. He has infinite power. He has infinite value, and infinite might. And so, He as the son of God who has given to us can bear
