

It has been a stimulating experience to go through the paper and I hope that my suggestions will prove to be of some value. Since I am grateful for the many statements of confidence in God's Word that it contains I was sorry indeed that it was necessary to devote so much of my response to pointing out statements with which I have to disagree.