

Nothing is more important than constant stress on the vital necessity of personal acceptance of Christ as Saviour. Apart from the atonement that he has made, and the individual relationship to his grace that is wrought in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, there is no hope for anyone. The most important question is not "How was Abraham saved?", but "How can I be saved?".

After one is saved, if his life is to count for the Lord, it is vital that he recognize the Bible as God's infallible Word, free from error, and entirely dependable. This is the great ^{al} focus point of attack today. ^{all} Above all we need an unshakable faith in the dependability of God's Word, and an ability to remove the difficulties that are placed in people's way by the misleading attacks upon it that are so much a part of the culture of our present day. One of our great purposes at Faith Seminary is to examine these attacks and to show how careful examination of the evidence involved always leads to increased faith in the dependability of God's Word. Of course, the Bible is not simply a banner to wave. It is really a map to guide our steps and to show us how our lives can count for Christ. Careful examination of its passages under the guidance of the Holy Spirit is of the utmost importance. I am anxious to free meaningless cliches and party titles and designations that often result in more heat than light. Those who follow these titles differ among themselves in bewildering , often being far nearer to the views of some who use the opposite title than to others who use the same title as they themselves.

I would be glad to make suggestions of particular lines of study to follow in order to work into particular aspects of Truth that interest you. I fear, however, that the effort to get two clear views into focus in order to make a decision between them, is not the method that is most apt to be productive of real progress at your present state of training.

If there is some particular line in which you would like suggestions for study I shall be glad to do what I can to help. May the Lord lead you in your spiritual and intellectual growth and enable you to make your life count to the utmost for his service.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
