...aren't most of those going to take place over in Palestine where the great battle is fought, I mean, we don't necessarily have a picture of all these people taking place all over the world.

McR: The revelations of this one (1 1/4) but rather imagine that there may be some pretty tremendous things that elsewhere occur.

stu: It could be identified with the 2 Peter passage, in other words the upheavals that take place (1 3/4)

MacR: Yes, there will be great changes, the removal of the curse, great changes.

stu: Now, another question, we speak of the animals eating grass and so on, not eating each other, that being one of the changes after the removal of the curse, but then the other day in one of our classes, I forget which one now, it came up the matter of there still being lots of slaughtery going on if people are to eat meat. So now will our nature be changed so that there won't be animals killed (2 1/4) that's getting a little too technical but still what point is there of one animal being spared the seizure of another animal if we're still going to take them, so (2 1/2) of a tremendous change in our physical makeup too if we're going to no longer have a desire for meat. (
