

prophets 10

that are just weaned? "For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little." / "Here he's giving this kind of talk, simple baby language talk. One, two, three; keep away from liquor, keep away from drinking, trust the Lord, do what's right. That's all right for the common people but why should he come in and talk to us nobles this way. We're beyond that stuff." And so in Verses 9 and 10 we have the nobles speaking and then in Verse 11, Isaiah answers, and Isaiah says--(the translation of ^{They say,} is "for". It can also be translated "but", as you know, and "but", I think, gives us the idea more clearly here than "for"). Isaiah says-- he hears what they're saying, and he says, "But with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people." He says, "You are saying that I am talking, that this is just baby talk, this is just simple stuff I am giving you that you don't want to be bothered with," he says, "God is going to speak to these people with stammering lips and another tongue." It sounds like stammering when they hear a group of foreigners coming in, talking in a language, you can't figure out what they're driving at. It sounds like stammering lips to you. It's another tongue. That's the way God is going to talk to you. You won't take this simple one, two, three precept and precept, line upon line that I am giving you. You are not interested in that. Well, God will speak with stammering lips and another tongue. God will speak to you. He will speak to you through harsher means. This people to whom he says, "This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing; yet they would not hear." God has offered protection and peace and safety through trust in Him. You won't listen to Him. You've got your clever schemes and your clever methods by which you think you're going to get safety, God says to you, He's going to speak to you through stammering lips and another tongue. What does that mean? Foreign consul. The coming of people of another language.
