going to say it, and so that, I think, is the most common use of the phrase "in that day". There is going to be a day, when this will happen. It will come to pass, there's going to be a day in which I'll call my servant Eliakim and clothe him with your robe and give him your position. Now you can take it either way. There's going to be <sup>such</sup> a day, or in the day when I drive you from your station I'm going to put Eliakim into it. Well, now, Shebna's over the house. He's going to be removed from that position, Eliakim is going to be put in that position, Eliakim, Eliakim will be fastened as a nail in a sure place and is going to be a glorious throne to his father's house. And then we turn over to Kings and to Isaiah 36 and we find that Eliakim is over the house and Shebna is the scribe. Does not that suggest, then, that when that occurs, when those events occur this has already happened, that Shebna has been demoted, he is no longer over the house. He is subordinate now and Eliakim, the son of Hilkiyah has taken his position and he is the one who now . Well, now you look at verse 23, I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house. What does that mean? (Student) Verse 22--And the key to the house of David I will lay on his shoulder. He's to <sup>have</sup> the stewardship for the king. He's going to be like a nail in a sure place. You can depend on him. He's going to be fixed. He's going to be there. You know what happens, when he doesn't. He has control. Well, now, Eliakim, then, is going to be the one who has the authority over the things of the king. He's going to be the steward. He's going to be a nail in a sure place. Now what does verse 25 tell you? How long is Eliakim going to be a nail in a sure place? What's going to happen to Eliakim? How many think verse 25 tells us what is going to happen to Eliakim eventually? Raise your hands . I see about four or five who think that. Six. How many have a different idea? One, two. Mr. Lin, what do you think? (Student) Christ? Where's that? Revelation 3:7 All right, let's look at that. That's very interesting. Revelation 3:7. To the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is
