

shall make haste, thy destroyers and they that make me waste shall go forth of thee. It goes on and gives the wonderful promises of the blessings that he is going to give them, to his people. And how they are going to increase, in verse 20, the children that thou ~~shalt~~ shalt have after thou hast lost the others shall say again in thy ears, the place is too narrow for me, then shalt thou say in thy heart, who hath begotten me, thee, seeing I have lost my children and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro, and who is God's seed, in comparison to Isa. 29 (13 1/2)

That even though many of Israel, according to the flesh, turn against God, yet Jesus said God is able even of these stones to raise up seed unto Abraham, to raise up children of Abraham, and that God will bring into his kingdom those of whom the natural Israel will say, well, who has begotten me these. God has begotten, they are born into (14) through his promise. It is the bringing in from all the nations of those who will believe and be born into the kingdom of God. Behold, thus saith the Lord God, behold, I will lift up my hand to the gentiles and set up my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, thy daughters shall be carried on their shoulders, and kings shall be thy nursing fathers. How the Word of God is to go out unto all the earth...
