

which the Germanic tribes were overrunning it, the British were fighting for their lives and being over come little by little and forced back in the mountainous regions of Wales where the Britains originally population of Britain still is, and these Germanic tribes were over running the land and gradually setting little kingdoms here and there. While this of the Benedictian convent, this man named Gregory, saw these two Anglo Saxon's boys for sale, he was impressed by their fine appearance, their ~~the~~ fair complexion sweet faces and light and he asked them the name of their nations and they said they were Angles and he said that is right, they have angelic faces and they are worthy to be fellow heirs with Asia. And then he said they are from the province meaning day and wrath. He said that is a good name for them as they should be plucked from the wrath of God and called to the mercy of Christ. He said what is the name of their king and they said his name is

Oh, he said, hallelujah, the praise of God must be sung in those thoughts and so he went ~~right~~ right to the bishop of Rome and said I want you to send missionaries to England to the Anglo's and he said I would like you to send me, I ~~do~~ want to go over to the Anglo's and reach these people and tell them about Christ and the bishop of Rome was not greatly interested in this, he had his hands full in trying to protect the people from the Lombards and while he was interested in general, ~~and greatly~~ in missionary work, and greatly being carried and did not see any possible wrong in this but Gregory kept it in his mind and after he became bishop of Rome, as soon as he had an opportunity he sent a missionary over to England to carry out the interest he had acquired when he was abbot of this (question) Now of course that is last semester but I will just mention very briefly there, England was evangelized to some extent in the second century A. D. Just how much we do not know, our records are incomplete, but at least there were British churches and there was a large British Christian movement at the time when the Romans left Britain 410 A.D. and these Britons were Celtic people related to the Scotch and the Irish and to the early inhabitants of France. Now the, in 410, the Romans were able to
