

No, maybe I did, but I didn't mean to, (skips) God's dealings with mankind, but that the Jews and the Christians have so perverted the Old and New Testaments that they are no longer ~~at~~ dependable and therefore that anything you from the Old or New Testaments, they would say, ~~that~~ wasn't in the original. That is not the way it is suppose to be, that is a pervert~~ed~~ed<sup>d</sup> version that the Jew s and Christians have made of it. (question 1) Well, they never put Christians to death for not accepting it. Right from the beginning, pagans, fireworshippers, idolaters, they were given choice, the Bible or the sword, but right from the beginning Christians and Jews were tolerated and when there had been great massacres of Christians it is usually been the uprisings of the people perhaps incited by their leaders, but it has not been part of the official attitude, the official attitude gives toleration to Christians and to Jews even though they may give them a good many civil disabilities. (question 1½) Yes, I don't know under present conditions whether they were apt to put on a holy way, but today in Africa, there is a big Mohammedan Mission work in Central Africa and converting a great many of the negroes there to Islam and the missionaries say that christianity, if they come to a missionaries have already been, it is five times as hard to get them as converts as it was before. (question 2) Yes, they have a very strict rule, the law of apostasy and that law is this, if a man is a Muslim, and then apostasizes from it, he then is worthy of death and the others are strictly commanded to kill him in such a case and this law of apostacy more than anything else is what makes this such a hard field to work in because I heard a story 20 years ago where a man said he was a missionary in a Muslim district in Africa and he was in Egypt and he was in a little town of and here he was giving a message on missionary work and he said it is very hard to make progress because of the fact that a man would be killed if he knew he was a Christian, but there are a good many secret believers, and a good many who accept Christ and who won't say anything about it because they are afraid of being killed and if they ever found out they will be killed and he said I know up here in the heart of England
