

And it is the same way with these early followers, (question)(10) It is entirely possible Any individual, he may have believed in transubstantiation, it is, when you read the words of Christ, this is my body this is my blood, it would be very easy for anybody to get the idea that it actually was. Now to me of course it makes it much harder to get that idea for when you think that when Christ said that he was sitting there at the table now if I would point to something over here and I would say, look at here, I say that is the body of Harry Truman right there (a loud Booming) now if I said that you would think that I was a bit crazy. But you could not prove it until I could get Harry Truman and show him to ~~you~~ you, or get someone to wire him and say no he is not in Wilmington he is in Washington or in ^hordia or somewhere. And they will, and if he is not present you see, and if I am a great person with all sorts of supernatural powers, and I say that ~~it~~ is this, if you had great confidence you might believe that it actually was but if I said that is my body and you come up and see my body here you would not think that I meant my body there when I said that my body was here. If you thought that I meant my ~~body~~ body was there you would speak up and say what do you mean. Your body is here how is your body there. And if I actually meant my body was both here and both there, it would be such an unusual idea that you would ask some questions and I would explain to how it could be. And so when Christ at the last supper and he said, he sitting there and the people, seeing him to point to the bread and said this is my body it is pretty hard for us to think that the disciples thought he means that was his actually body and they could see it right in front of him, no matter how great his miraculous power was, it after his death, Peter said this is the body of the Lord, you might say did Christ tell you it would be his body, alright we will believe it because he could do it and if he could choose to do that he can, when he is actually there and he is sitting here and say that is my body there, it is a queer idea you would not think that is what he meant unless you stop and ask him question and he explains to you how he could mean it. The trouble is that we don't think of the situation, here is Christ here there is the blood and this is what he simply said, we simply take a word out of scripture, here is the, this is my body well what does that mean? This is my body, well Christ said Christ knows everything and he said that is his body then it must be his body. You see it is the proof text habit, and everybody falls into the
