show what these philosophers have done, to show how inadequate it all is. If he isn't that, it isn't which it is not good to try to _____ job in which you are really interested. And so if a man is going to give his life ~~to~~ to it, his tendency is ~~that~~ to think that he can develop <sup>a</sup> philosophically/interpreting <sup>of</sup> the word and explaining the answer to the problems of life. And when a Christian tries to do that, ~~his~~ his tendency is to give a lip service to the Bible, say, the Bible is true, God's word is true, there is no salvation apart from Christ, God is the controller of everything, but philosophically we can prove all these things. The Bible is a sort of <sup>little</sup> extra thing that gives us, it's very helpful.

But Actually it's our philosophy that gives us our answers. And if a man is a true Christian and follows ~~the~~ the Scriptures and when he preaches he presents the word of God, then God may bless him <sup>and use him / if</sup> but/his emphasis is on thinking that human philosophy will prove Christianity, there is a danger, a great danger which is apt to lead some of <sup>his</sup> ~~the~~ followers to just what this verse describes, to making <sup>our</sup> ~~the~~ own fire, and we will explain it, and we have gone through philosophy, and we explain it. Now, that's not the biblical answer. And I have known some wonderfully fine Christian fellows who have wanted to serve the Lord, and lead souls to know Him, who have got into that frame of mind where they devoted <sup>the rest of</sup> their life to trying to prove <sup>a</sup> certain philosophy, and trying to prove that every little detail of this philosophy is correct, and they were interested in proving the theory rather than presenting a Saviour. And I have seen wonderfully fine fellows wasted, I thought, for Christian service by that. I think that there is a tremendous danger in that. I ~~agree~~ was grieved to see some <sup>very</sup> ~~of the~~ fine Christians have got into that sort of an attitude. Now, I would not say that this verse <sup>is</sup> specifically speaks <sup>ing</sup> about that ~~the~~, but I would say that it is related. There is a tremendous danger in this. And it is true to trust in the God of the Bible, and following the ~~Bible~~
