

No. 15, Cont'd

(1.70)

~~We~~ God ~~desires~~ us in eternity according to what we are and what we have done for Him, especially according to the grace of ~~Jesus~~ Christ that is attributed to us. But God uses very, very imperfect instruments in accomplishing His will, and but I feel that when a man preached a sermon that contains a lot of wonderful truth. God can use that truth, but when he ties up the truth up to a verse that has nothing to do with that truth, I feel that <sup>the</sup> devil can use that fact/ to lead people that have a wrong impression of what the word of God is, and it's therefore a great deal of harm can come as well as good, but the good <sup>may be</sup> ~~is~~ so great that we overlook it so hard, but I don't think God will overlook it so <sup>in</sup> hard. And/some circumstances the harm _____ the good. (1.01)

I feel that we should have a tactic really representing the thing we are trying to give, not tie it up with something that is unrelated/ ~~of~~/ to it. _____

Why not take a verse from Shakespeare, and ~~from~~ from some other source, and why take from the ~~Bible~~ <sup>Bible</sup> if you are not really using the Bible as the source. (?) _____

but ~~is~~ simply as a point. (End of No. 15.)
