

aton~~e~~ing death but also His continuing intercession for us at the right hand of God. (Question) There's no relation between "numbered with transgressors" and "ing- "intercession for us" But "He was numbered with transgressors" is part of "He poured out His soul unto death and bare the sin of many." His dying for us is accompanied with His humiliation. of being placed between two thieves. And it is He through the world shall be a transgressor (?) He took our sin upon Him which involved not merely the terrible physical suffering but also the terrible mental anguish of being numbered with the transgressors and looked upon as one who was ^every baring sin so that His own ~~mother~~ Father had to ~~thru~~ turn His face away from Him. ¹ He cried, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Because God could not look upon sin. (Q) Not at all, It relates to the transgressors who were saved through Him but who nevertheless transgressed, as everyone does who is not completely sanctified. They continue...He is numbered with transgressors, because He is between two ~~the~~ thieves. One of those thieves went to heaven. One of those thieves was with Him in Paradise. He now is making intercession for transgressors. He's not making intercession for us because ~~we've~~ we're so perfect --we're such wonderful people that He's saying "Aren't they glorious? Aren't they wonderful?" No. He's making intercession for us. He 's presenting His merits as over against our sin. ~~On~~In one case, it ~~rev~~ refers to the two thieves; in another case, it refers to all those who are like the one thief who w put his faith in Christ--referring to all those who are though saved are still transgressors--are still sinning. He is interceding for them.
