

is not an interpretation at all. Ordinarily ...so there was no special problem in the interpretation of that verse, was there, other than what we have already noticed about the previous verse. I would think that the way that the way...the plan is to think, to decide the roles that are followed....So that he ~~has~~ shows how his plans are so different, ...and then they do what is wicked...but he has plans that are different. I would ~~xx~~ think that Of coursemy thoughts from your thoughts . In the/^{Kittel}~~Kittel~~ Bible they have ...~~ix~~ you notice how ---man is often it is the use of ...it is the use of Min, separation. And the source it originates from ...they are higher than man .. it is interesting to notice how the two verbs here are ~~f~~ perfect. So are my ways higher than your ways. In English you would say they aren't any more. They just used to be. Of ~~a~~ course in the Hebrew the perfect does not mean...the perfect is ~~ix~~ something that has been established. It is a situation that is complete. The imperfect is that which is incomplete. The ~~per~~fect shows an established situation, and therefore the perfect is appropriate here. If you can't translate it.. it isn't that they used to be that way, but the system is ~~esa~~ established. God has established the heavens high above the earth, and similarly ...the thought that man is always looking for an advantage for himself, and is willing to make this marvelous offer of pardon of sin ...who have sinned ~~x~~ so grievously against him, and to give an offer absolutely of grace, nothing that they do could ~~desire~~ deserve it whatever, just everyone who is thirsty is invited to partake of it. That seems to be simply a matter of pronunciation. ~~F~~ Very often two words are combined in accentuation, and it doesn't seem to have ~~an~~ any great significance as far as meaning is concerned. Well, actually of ~~esse~~ course ...I think that perhaps the comparative idea is more easily understood. Perhaps it is more because the heavens are higher than the earth. Similar...Usually in the Hebrew they have the ...~~x~~ twice. The first part is compared to the ... but in this part having the ...but I think that having the Ki ...already they
