Now, the word that we ~~haf~~- ~~hva~~ have in our book ~~is~~ here is not ...the last letter in the word, it is ...~~Was~~- ~~Was~~- Waw at the beginning is always a construct...Waw at the end is going to be a vowel....but ~~te-H~~- the Ha is always the..unless it is the last letter of the word...But here you don't need it be~~c~~ause you have the ~~x~~ ~~vee~~- vowel after it...so that ~~ha~~ you could write this ...instead of writin g a shureq, you could write a simple subject. They don't do that... they ~~x m~~ could do ~~it~~ it. it's perfectly allright. ^I t is purely a matter of ...~~cusam tom~~ custom that they don't ...them, The only ~~tin~~ thing is .~~wha~~- (repetition above)

We notice in verse 10--well, in verse 10 there are some interesting parts.

Let's look at ver~~x~~e ten again. You see here the imperfect --the ~~ad~~- action comes down. the frequant~~ix~~tive. And incidentally, in ~~grammae~~- grammars in you will find ~~that~~ the statement that the English ~~pr3~~ present is I run, you run, h~~e~~ runs, we run. They call it a present but they mis~~c~~all it....you could be walking down to town . The ...would be I am going. You ~~xx~~ say I walk to town, you mean it is my custom to walk to town. ~~I~~ You say I am walking to town, is that you are now doing it . In English this queer change takes place...that it requires

 ...and what looks like...very few people know about i~~t~~, but if they dont   ..in King James...in ~~Siien~~ Simon Peter says I go afishing...it~~s~~ ~~frequentivi--frequentivie~~ frequentitive --we would say. ~~Wa~~- What are you ~~deig~~- doing now, so the King

James often says...and of course....I think that probably ...we are constantly being checked. In every language people are constantly making mistakes, and ~~these~~- these mistakes ~~x~~come from a simplifying of the ~~langaug~~- language...We say ...Well, a little child says, He rideth,,,and that would bec...somebody makes
