We are always starting new customs...but usually ...every now and then ..but with as alarge a language is as we have...so that probably the larger the group the more inertia...it is not so much ...so that here we have in verse 10 ..just as the rain comes down, it- I think that it would be a little more accurate to say...Ix Now, you have two subjects: just as the rain and th snow come down from the sky , and you may think that there is only one, but it is customary-customary- customary in H-rew- in Hebrew ..There are two subjects and if...so this is as the rain and the sea snow come down fx from heaven or the sky, and ^{I} think that it will be moreaccurate...until it has watered the earth..until this thing is completed it wont comeback except it perform is- its function ...it will not xretuxrn until it has watered the earth. Ther we could even ix use the perfect in Ign Englxish....Again it is a perfect with a waw conjuctive, ..or if £ you took it as a waw converxsive,.it woul- could be so that it will cause ... to bring forth... maybe it would be even better. This is a waw conversive, because there is not much indication where ... until ...
(Q) Yes, if you take future that way, until it water the earth, and it wil... so that it will cause it to bring forth and it will ... No, it is a causative ... Yes, there the He there as notice, there is a dot. in the He, because it-is a consonant there, not just a I am vowel letter. It will cuase ∅ it to bud or it has caused it to bud. It-is rather uncertain whether this should be taken as waw conversive or as- conjunctive, but I am more inclined toward conjunctive, making three parallels, having clear perfects... here waw with no ∅ verb. Until it has done it. And it has done that... Yej- You know these two are the result of that... X it will water the earth.
Of course, thiswa- water will cause it to perhaps to ... perhaps will cause it to bring forth, or it will cuase it to bud... (Q) ... I would like to ask about this last two verses. It-will-seek-to It will give seed to ... what is the