

E-22

... There may be several different translations. In fairly early time in which ~~with~~ every ... unless you are ... when I was a boy, everybody knew ...
 Everybody today .. / 100 years ago nobody has heard of _____ They may have invented the _____ .I. Now, in English the word science ... in the last twenty / years ... / he says ... it is particularly true of ... if you are out of country. ... I think that the meaning is quite clear. There is going to be a change by the removal of ... the substituti/on of the present ... I do not see how that is going to be It would seem to require a rather definite literal element. I do not see how that can be simply a figure of speech. It would seem to require a rather definite literality. Well, then that finishes chapter 55. And Yes? (Q) And it will be. And it also shows something ... it is also ... I used to know es- It follows ... these things will happen and it will be... there will occur, there will result, at least. There will come into existence as a result of ... there will come into existence... well, now, oh _____ is a word which is ~~commonly~~ translated for commonly in Latin by _____. And then they use the word _____ In English the word miracle (7.50) that / presents two words in Hebrew. Sometimes in our English Bible the word miracle is .. / open....
 Sometimes where the word faith is translated miracle.... not always like that.... this word oath is much more common and ... but oath means a sign and indication... of something. It may be something... you simply put something on and you make an indication... and it has the right kind of ... It may be an indication of something. It is very often an indication of special time which will give proof and thus o/ a miracle is an _____ (oath) It is an indication that the prophets of something

give proof