so we have to think of certain passages exactly into which direction it looks ... into which direction does it look? For instance, you have to take the chapter ... verse 8, which we have just read. IN the wrath , in the outpouring of the wrath, I get the ... for a moment. I get ~~th~~ In the rush of wrath I get my ... for a moment. Who is he talking about? Who does he say ... Who is he talking to? Who is talking to him? Well, he says, ... into which direction ... Here he is ~~ta-~~ ~~thinking~~ of Israel. He is thinking of those who ... those who are trying to stand there ... He is thinking of those Israelites . the Israelites who are his servants, those who are trying to stand true to His word... they are true in carrying out /... forward... he is one who is going to provide... So, he is looking forward to ... speaking of the exile. It does not seem to me ~~that~~ this verse would apply to the Gentiles, from whom you might say ... the long period ... they thought of ~~down-th~~ so I think that it is good to go through the whole chapter, ~~I-th~~ and think of each verse . Does this refer to all believers? Does this refer to physically to the Gentiles/ believers? What were you ~~to-~~ going to say Mr. Lee? I think that this refers to this here to the coming back from the exile. The great mercies I ... I would be inclined to think that verse 8 is the same thing. Here he is showing his great mercy to the true Israelite believers ~~and-and-back~~ who have gone back from exile, and were allowed to reestablish the true Israelite believers... I would be inclined to think that verse 8 is ... He is showing His great mercy... I would be inclined to think that verse 8 is speaking the same thing. He is showing His great mercy to ~~His-Israelites~~ the true Israelite believers ... ~~He-is-back-~~ He is allowed to reestablish the ^{homeland} ... verse 7 ends ... verse 8 in verse 8 I would think that a little wrath.. the outpouring wrath ... Isaiah for a moment...
